

I live in Massachusetts and was born on January 15, 2010. I am Korean American and am fluent in both Korean and English. In my free time I love to read and practice the piano and cello. I always strive to live with the mindset of caring and loving one's neighbors and this value led me to join this organization in spreading hope and love to the impoverished through learning. This valuable opportunity has acted as a continuous reminder for the joy of serving others.
